Dear Friends of the Jewish Community Center of Northern Virginia:

I would like to take this opportunity to welcome all of you gathered here for the 28th Annual Fall Gala benefitting the JCCNV's Special Needs Program. I salute the Center's commitment to keeping people with special needs at the forefront of your programming.

Since 2006, the JCCNV has developed programs that give individuals with special needs the opportunity to participate in a broad range of recreational, educational, and social activities. In addition to creating Camp Shalom, a social skills camp for preschool and school-aged children, the JCCNV has implemented an adapted aquatics program, family support groups, and a social club for young adults with Asperger's Syndrome, among other programs. It is your support that has made these important programs possible.

Tonight we also honor four individuals whose contributions have helped to build these thriving programs which benefit children and young adults with special needs. Congressman Davis, Sandy Barmak, and Mel and Sandy Rosenblatt, thank you for your contributions and congratulations on your award tonight.

As many of you may know, Tom and I have worked together in the Congress for fourteen years now, and I have no closer friend in the Congress. His tireless efforts on behalf of the 11th Congressional District will truly be missed.

Again, I commend the JCCNV for its commitment to the special needs community.

Sincerely,

John Warner
