

Greetings from the Director

It is my pleasure to report that at the JCCNV annual meeting held on May 10, Lore Edidin, the Senior Adult Department Advisor, was recognized for her accomplishments over the many years she has worked at the JCCNV. Lore was given the 2010 President's Recognition Award. Way to go, Lore—we are thrilled for you!

If you did not go on our trip to the Weinstein JCC in Richmond in May, you missed a wonderful excursion. During lunch, we had an unexpected treat when singer-songwriter Susan Greenbaum sang for us. Following lunch, we were entertained by the JCC's delightful senior choral group, "The Grand Tones." We then enjoyed a ride down Monument Avenue and a tour of both Beth Ahabah Museum and Archives and a stop at the Hebrew Confederate Cemetery.

You will not want to miss the many exciting trips that are planned for July and August, including a trip to Olney Theatre Center to see "Forever Plaid," a tour of the historic Blenheim house in Fairfax City, and a boat tour of Annapolis Harbor, with lunch at an historic tavern. Details about these and many other activities are described in detail in this newsletter.

As you read The Voice, please take note of the businesses that advertise in the newsletter. Their support and funds contribute significantly to our ability to produce this publication. Please consider patronizing our advertisers when you have a need for such services.

Our staff looks forward to meeting you at an upcoming activity. We value your opinion and feedback. Visit us online at www.jccnv.org, or send your comments to PamW@jccnv.org or call (703) 537-3061.

Shalom,

Pamela Wiener
Senior Adult Services Director

A Note of Thanks from Lore

I feel both humbled and honored to have been the recipient of the 2010 President's Recognition Award at the JCCNV annual meeting. I would like to share this award with the amazing team of the Senior Adult Department and its director, Pam Wiener. Whatever I have accomplished over the many years I have worked at the JCCNV, the JCCNV has done so much more for me. It has been a home away from home just as it is for so many others.

Lore Edidin

Many thanks,
Lore Edidin

Cell Phone, iPhone, & BlackBerry Recycling

When you replace your cell phone or BlackBerry, bring your old one to the JCCNV. When you do this, you will enable the Senior Adult Department to make money while also helping to save the environment. Old items can be dropped off at the front desk. The newer the phone or BlackBerry, the more money we raise. However, no phone is too old. Visit www.jccnv.org for more details.

JCCNV Adult Activity Phone Line

Call (703) 537-3032 to hear a recording of upcoming weekly activities at the JCCNV for Active Retiree and Senior Adults.

Monday Morning Trip Line

Call (703) 537-3070 to hear updated information about upcoming trips and to make a reservation. You will receive a confirmation call back.